

Effective training, no fuss.

Implementing privacy compliance training is easy with our new assessment and reporting tools.

Protecting the privacy of the personal information you hold is essential.

Salinger Privacy's online privacy training can help your staff understand their legal obligations, to maintain the trust of your customers, and the reputation of your organisation.

Crafted by privacy leaders with over 20 years' experience, our training is engaging and effective – because we know what works.

Our training modules...

Explain how privacy rules apply in practice – we don't just quote the law.

Test that people have understood the message, with a comprehensive assessment.

Report to demonstrate progress, providing assurance about staff completion rates.

When you need a privacy compliance program that delivers, choose Salinger Privacy training.
